

'08 STANTON MUSTANGS

The Stanton Mustang coaching staff this year includes: head coach, Greg Hansen, and assistants, Dave Stoddard and Jeff Wall. Drew Erks serves as athletic trainer. Student managers are Michael Hansen, Matthew Hansen, Cody Carlson, Houston Huss, Adam Krentz and Jacob Vogel. Alex Wolf provides filming services for the team.

The Stanton Mustangs head into 2008 with high expectations

The 2008 version of the Stanton Mustangs football team enters this season with high expectations, and they are not the only ones who think so.

Several publications have shown Stanton a lot of respect, ranking them in the Top 2. Surprisingly, the Huskerland Prep Magazine ranked the Mustangs No.1, above two-time defending state champions, Wakefield.

"Wakefield returns several key starters that will make them very tough," said coach Greg Hansen. "I expected us to be in the pre-season top five, but No. 1 was a shock."

Several other publications showed their high expectations for the Mustangs as well, with the Omaha World Herald and the Lincoln Journal Star both rating Stanton at No. 2, and Calpreps.com (a computerized website, that specializes in high school sports) ranking the Stanton Mustangs at No. 4.

"Pre-season rankings are all well and good, but we are worried about the rankings at the end of the season," said Hansen.

"We are attacking this season one game at a time, and if we take care of the details, the wins will come." "Our main focus was Sept. 5 against a much-improved Gator program," Hansen said about the Mustangs' opening game in Wisner last Friday. Stanton won the game 48-20 on an unusually cool night.

The Mustangs return eight starters on offense and eight on defense.

"Our major focus this season was to replace several solid linemen we lost through graduation."

"The new guys have stepped in there and I think they've done a very good job," said Hansen.
